Mike Adams & Natural News & Biosolids

The Health Ranger (Mike Adams) and "Natural News" have joined other conspiracy theorists in attacking the land application of biosolids. Adams' websites (e.g.

"biosludge.news") are promoting a new movie, "Biosludged: The Greatest Environment Crime You've Never Known," which is due to be released online this year. It almost seems like a spoof, something so ludicrous that can be ignored. But background on Mr. Adams and his many questionable commercial exploits reveals someone who unfortunately has considerable social media influence, has rankled many professional scientists, and disrupted important quality research programs. It is a sign of the times that "fake news" is entering the fringe debates about biosolids recycling.
